

Meeting Employer IT Needs

What is TechHire New Mexico?

TechHire New Mexico is an innovative job training program designed to help employers in Bernalillo, Sandoval, Torrance, and Valencia counties solve their IT staffing and training challenges in ways that grow a more inclusive and relevant pipeline of superb tech talent.

Through the Workforce Connection of Central New Mexico, and in partnership with Central New Mexico Community College, CNM Ingenuity. Inc., Innovate+Educate, and New Mexico Technology Council, TechHire New Mexico helps employers by providing job placement support, paid customized technical training, paid on-the-job training, and paid internship opportunities for your incumbent and new Tech/IT staff.

Employer Benefits

- Customized training programs that reflect and align with employer needs:
 - Paid customized training for incumbent and new Tech/IT staff
 - Funding for up to six months of on-the-job training
 - Paid internships
 - Soft Skills assessments and training
- Full range of IT job seeker skill set assessments with instant test results
- IT employees with the soft and hard skills and competencies needed to meet employer demand
- Employees with industry-recognized credentials (CISCO, CompTIA, Microsoft etc.)
- Opportunities for employers to hire high-quality, diverse, entry-level talent
- Improved workforce diversity
- Reduced difficulty in filling tech positions
- Improved employee retention
- Reduced business costs
- Business growth

Become a TechHire New Mexico Employer Partner

- Hire TechHire New Mexico participants
- Let TechHire New Mexico pay for your staff training
- Work with the program to upskill front-line and/or low-skilled incumbent workers
- Hire unemployed TechHire New Mexico participants to backfill job vacancies left by incumbent workers who move into higher-skill jobs
- Share robust data on where you have the greatest needs and what skills you are seeking to help make sure training leads to jobs

To learn more about becoming an employer partner contact:

Tawnya Rowland, (505) 843-1919, trowland@wccnm.org